CARDINAL SCANDALS.

Pecci Made Pope Because Something Ailed All the Rest—Many Bad Things.

The Tenna Tagbinti.

Because Cardinal Minaco la Valletta s a bad sleeper. Cardinal Amati is paralyzed. Cardinal di Pietro is 100 much in debt. Cardinal Belli composed the Syllabus. Cardinal Morichini is dying. Cardinal Aschini is too scrupulons. Cardifal Carafa is a Neapolitan. Cardinal Papebianco is a monk, ignorant of the world Cardinal de Lucca is too liberal and to small of stature. Cardinal Bartoliri is too fanatic. Cardinal Parocehi is too young. Cardinal di Canossa is too closely connected with Austria. Cardinal Ferrieri is the son of a domestic. Cardinal Berardi had relations with the ex-Minister Nicotera. Cardinal Chiginis a Jesuit and narrow minded. Cardinal Franchi is too friendly to the ex-Queen Isabella, of Spain. Cardina Antici Matti is a cypher. Cardinal Martinelli is a vulgar monk and hadly brought up. Cardinal Gianelli is too reactionary. Cardinal Simeoni is not sufficiently independent. Cardinal Caterni is the alter ego of Father Bokx. General of the Jesuits. Cardinal Menel is a creature of the late Antonelli, whose memory is detested in the sacred college. Cardinal Consolini is too lihera, he is the author of an essay which represented that the grandfather of Pils IX, was a Jew. Cardinal Borromeo his led too shameful a life, everybody at Rome knows his relations with Mme. Fomponi, sister of the cure of San Rocco. Cardinal Randi made himself sdious as Director of the Police. Cardinal Pacca is feeble minded, and he is too much compromised by his gallant-great deal of scandal. As the Cardinals were determined to vote only for an Italian, there was no other choice than Cardinal Pecci. BIG STORIES ABOUT CALIFORNIA HIS ries. Cardinal Nina was implicated in the terrible affair of the young girl of

Olio, who died from poison. Cardinal

Sharrette was likewise compromised by a gallant adventure which gave rise to a

The idea seems almost preposterous that vegetables are raised in California which a strong man can't life, but so it is. Down in Los Angeles it is a common thing to raise pumpkins weighing from 200 to 320 pounds, and a single vine has produced the past year in that section 1,400 pounds of pumpkins. The growth of vegetables in this State is wonderful, and the yield in numerous nstances is enormous. There are potatoes in this market which grew on land yielding 500 bushels to the acre. There is a man who has raised the past season on Grand Island, Colusa county, in the central portion of the State, an immense crop of tubers. His field comprised 400 acres, and his total yield is 34,000 sacks of large potatoes (125 pounds to the sack on the average), and about 400 tons of small ones, or in all some 4,250,000 pounds. They embrace several kinds, but they are mostly Humbolt red, which is considered the best, early rose and peach blows. The large potatoes he sends to market and the small ones he uses for seed and feed. The average price he gets for them is 11 My Wall-Paper cannot be bent for style and cents a pound, and at this rate he will middle. Over the hundred patterns, and borders get $63,750 for his large polatoes. If he gets $10 a ton for his small potatoes, he will receive an additional amount of $4,000, or $67,750 for his entire crop. But wondorful as this yield is, the product is larger down in the coast counties, I am told, than elsewhere in the State. Sweet potatoes are also grown successfully.—San Francisco Letter.

A Suggestion To The Traveling Public.

Tourists, embrants and mariners find that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicinal safeguard against unhealthful in fluences, upon which they can implicitly rely, since it presents the effects that an unhealthy climate, vitiated atmosphere, unicenstoned or unwholesome diet, had water or other conditions unfavorable to health would otherwise produce. On long voyages, or journeys by land in latitudes adjacent to the equator, it is especially useful as a preventive of the februle complaints and disorders of the stomach, liver and howels, which are apt to attack natives of the temperate zones sojourning or traveling in such regions, and it is excellent protection against the laftuence of extreme cold, sudden changes of temperature, exposure to damp or extreme fatigue. It not only prevents intermit tent and remittent fever, and other dis cases of a mularial type, but eradicates them, a fact which has been notorious for years past in North and South America. The idea seems almost preposterous that vegetables are raised in California which a strong man can't life, but so it is. Down in Los Angeles it is a common thing to raise pumpkins weighing from 200 to 320 pounds, and a single vine has produced the past year in that section 1,400 pounds of pumpkins. The growth of vegetables in this State is wonderful, and the yield in numerous nstances is enormous. There are potatoes in this market which grew on land yielding 500 bushels to the acre. There is a man who has raised the past season on Grand Island, Colusa county, in the central portion of the State, an immense crop of tubers. His field comprised 400 acres, and his total yield is 34,000 sacks of large potatoes (125 pounds to the sack on the average), and about 400 tons of small ones, or in all some 4,250,000 pounds. They embrace several kinds, but they are mostly Humbolt red, which is considered the best, early rose and peach blows. Call and see for yourself gets $10 a ton for his small potatoes, he will preceive an additional amount of $4,000, or $67,750 for his entire crop. But wonderful as this yield is, the product is larger down in the coast counties, I am told, than elsewhere in the State. Sweet potatoes are also grown successfully.—San Francisco Letter.

.-A Suggestion To The Traveling Public.

Tourists, emigrants and mariners find that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicinal safeguard against unhealthrul influences, upon which they can implicitly rely, since it prevents the effects that an unhealthy climate, vitiated atmosphere, unaccustomed or unwholesome diet, bad water or other conditions unfavorable to scalth would otherwise produce. On long voyages, or journeys by land in latitudes adjacent to the equator, it is especially useful as a preventive of the febrile complaints and disorders of the stomach, liver and howels, which are apt to attack natives of the temperate zones sojourning or traveling in such regions, and it is excellent protection against the influence of extreme cold, sudden changes of temperature, exposure to damp or extreme fatigue. It not only prevents intermit tent and remittent fever, and other discases of a malarial type, but eradicates them, a fact which has been notorious for years past in North and South America. The Sun man really sees that the mayor has "put his foot into the case and in order to help that worthy out he makes statements which-to repeat the expression made use of this morning by a very cool and very well posted man, too-neo "a pack of lies from beginning to end." To show how fertile the Sun his great personal and political popularman is in the production of misstatements we will copy a few from his article of this morning. In speaking of the appointment of the standing committees he says:

One year ago these committees were ap-pointed without advice or commitation, or at least without any general consultation.

The community generally will prefer to accept the testimony of Ex-Mayor Chambers on this point, which is diametrically opposed to that given by the facile witness of the Sun. But after arguing that consultation has not been customary this accomplished flopper there around and swears that Mayor states, pay and emoluments of each.—

Priest actually did consult with the aldermen. These are his words:

Since his election Mayor Priest has con-sulted and advised with, and has invited all the aldermen who would, to consult and advise with him, not only in regard to the appointment of these committees, but in regard to other matters calculated to promote harmony and good feeling in the council, and to enhance the welfare of this city. Some of the members an-swered to this request and others would

We have been assured by a majority of "the seven" that the revenue is true -that they were not only not invited by Mayor Priest to consult with him, but that on the contrary some of them went to him and suggested that he call a meeting for consultation, but could get will give only one instance: Alderman Bramble some days ago saked Alderman Overmire if a consultation with the mayor would not be desirable. Over mire endorsed the idea, and thereupon Alderman Bramble and Swearingen called upon Mayor Priest and sought to come to some understanding, whereby the new administration might start off sated in 19 different states, amounting emporthly, but all that they could learn from the mayor was his fixed determi nation to run the whole machine himself. With reference to the slate made the had 980,190 acres. Tennessee comes Representative, we fail to see the necessary of the mayor, and which was so next with 684,400 acres and I lows third sity or economy of a change. unceremoniously smashed by "the sevon," the Sun is just an veracious a usual. It says:

Mayor Priest had his committees select ed before the meeting of the council Wed-nesday evaning, and copies were in the hands of members at the time they moved to take the appointing power away from

The "members" who had copies of the list of committees in their hand vertainly did not include "the seven," none of whom know what the slate was until after the rules had been smended. It is upon this sort of misstatements that the San attempts to defend the of that state, called on Mr. Sherman to action of the Mayor.

Regarding the arbitrary adjournment of the council the Sun says.

It seems clear that the adjournment was regular and legitimate. There were hut rein members in the room at the time; three voted for and three against. The mayor voted for, and declared the council adjourned. Aid. Butman, who had stepped out maturated and voted orainst offer. d out returned, and voted against after ped our returned, ----

We have the word of gentlemen who were present when the vote was taken. and who heard Alderman Butman vote in the negative on the motion to adjourn. This ought- to settle that question, no matter what the Sun man says. If this is not enough we will further atate, by Mr. Butman's sutherity and hypoenitical and triffing Administra-tion." They left Mr. Sherman musing request, that he was in his seat at the time the motion was put and roted Not in," etc .- Weste Dem. March 27.

The reflections of the Nun man on the effects which this meeting of the count would have had, if it had been hald prior to the election, are of sourse parely hypothetical, and therefore eatitled to so consideration whatever. Like most arguments which start of with a big "if," this one lacks the prinsipal requisite of foresthiogic—that of having a foundation in fact-being based upon a supposition that is not possible. But it will answer for throwing sand in people's eyes as well as any

THE REPUBLICATE PARTY. Strife III Clare

The following is an extract from the closing past of Senator Howe's speech on the Louisiana case, in the Senate on Monday last:

Mr. President, the Republican party has achieved something in its time; something which needs not to be repentless than two weeks ago. Now let the Leaguen; for human progress, against stagnant or reactionary conservatism. The conflict has been fearful, but a tri-The Rock Island department of the sumph has been gained. This generation may have forgotten this work, but history has recorded it, and the future will not fall to applaud it. I see its the final Judgment of the people the accession of James II, a distinguished lady of Court early joined that communion. When asked why she did so, she explained that she disliked to travel in a crowd, and as so many were soon going to Rome, she though she would precede them. I shall not imitate her wisdom. Prudent Republicans who think defeat is the last calamity which can befall may do well to avoid it by taking refuge in the camp of the enemy, but as for myself, I propose to stay at home, and do not much fear a crowd. I fear disgrace more than So long as the slightest chance redefeat, and shall not consent to see our historic temples turned into old junk shops, where pinchbeck virtue is sold by mock auctioneers. But must political strife be perpetual? Shall we never have peace? No! never, while human opinion is free and is not accordant; never, until justice is the supreme law, never, until the lowest and blackest of God's children finds the pursuit of happiness as free from legal obstructions as until the sweat of man, however humble, as much concerns the state as the sweat of a dollar, no matter how precious the metal of which the dollar is coined. Four thousand years of history provethat peace upon any other terms than these is a delusion and a snare.

THERE is a new political trouble in Ohio. Governor Bishop and some of the Democratic leaders in the Legislature are at loggerheads. The Governor Southern Railroad, and the Legislature is asked to give that city authority to give additional aid to that railroad to the amount of $2,000,000. The Demoeratic leaders of the Legislature are opposed to this measure, and the Governor is exercising his personal and official influence in its favor. The legislators have "got mad," and even go so far as to accuse him of making dishonorable bargains and combinations for the benefit of his scheme. Brethren should try to dwell together in unity. During a military re-union recently, at Anderson, S. C., there was a political gathering, numbering about 8,000 people. Governor Wade Hampton address ed them, urging equal rights for all cit izens, amnosty for past official rogueries, except as to conspicuous leaders who misled the colored element," and paid a high tribute to President Haves' official conduct. He counseled unity and harmony among Democrats, and predicted that the principles sustained in 1876, and the nomination of conservative men on the state ticket, would result in the utter disruption of the Republican party in South Carolina. Another correspondent says a sudden and unaccountable change in the government's attitude is reported. It is said Count Andrassy has only been feigning concurrence with the court party, and he is now preparing to oppose Russia openly, with the cutire Hungarian party at his buck.

LONDON, March 28 .- The House of Many members of the lower house were I take. present. Lord Derby entered soon after 5 and took his seat below the gangway, instead of on the treasury bench. He rose almost immediately, and announced his resignation as secretary for foreign affairs, which, he said, had been accepted by the Queen, and he only continued to hold office until the appointment of his successor. He regretted that under the circumstances, it would not be justitiable for him to follow the customary course of explaining in detail the difference which led him to resign. The Cabinet had arrived at certain conclusions of a grave and important character, in which he was not able to concur. To prevent needless alarm, he would say he did not consider those measures as necessarily tending to bring about war. He gave the Cabinet credit for sincerely desiring European peace, but he could not regard the measures which have now been resolved on as prudent to the interests of peace or necessary to the safety of the country. When the concurrence of Parliament is asked for measures of which he had spoken, he would vindicate his opinions. He would state, however, that he did not dissent from the Cabinet's view of the conditions unon which Europe might go into the Congress. He lamented the obstacles to the meeting of the Congress, but the fault did not rest with the government of this country.

Lord Beaconsfield said he would willingly refrain from noticing the reasons which had influenced Lord Derby to resign until a period when those reasons might be legitimately considered by the house. So much mischief might occur from unnecessary mystery that it was his duty to say that in consequence of the belief of the Government that the Congress would not be held and that hopes of rectifying the disturbed balance of power in the Mediterranean by means of the Congress seeming to have altogether coased, it was the duty of ministers to consider what steps should be taken to prevent impending mischief. They had therefore advised her Majesty to avail herself of the services of her reserve forces. A message to that effect would be laid before Parliament. Lord Beaconsfield deeply deplored that he would not have the support of Lord Derby when he submitted measures on which the Cabinet had resolved to the Parliament. He had felt of late that the political ties between Lord Derby and himself must soon terminate, but he had believed that it would be in a very different and more natural manner-namely, that he (Lord Beaconsfield) would disappear from the scene, while Lord Derby would remain to take a leading part in public affairs. He was sustained at the present moment by confidence that the policy of the government recommended to her Majesty would tend to the maintenance of her empire, freedom of Europe, and the greatness and security of the coun-

It was shown that the defendant, presuming on his titles of D. D., and M. D., succeeded in gaining the confidence of unsuspecting parties, noticeably among the rest Prof. Huminson and Mrs. Martha H. Herrick, residing at No. 41 South Clark street, and by flattering representations, etc., induced these parties to intrust to him certain sums of money to be put into grain deals on the Board of Trade. By this play the M. D., D. down his premises. The Sun man really sees that the mayor has "put his foot into the case and in order to help that worthy out he makes statements which—to repeat the expression made use of this morning by a very cool and very well posted man, too-are "a pack of lies from beginning to end." To show how fertile the Sun his great personal and political popularman is in the production of misstatements we will copy a few from his arti cle of this morning. In speaking of the appointment of the standing committees he says:

One year agn these committees were appointed without advice or committation, or at least without any general consultation.

The community generally will prefer to accept the testimeny of Ex-Mayor Chambers on this point, which is diametrically opposed to that given by the facile witness of the Sun. But after arguing that consultation has not been customary this accomplished flopper three around and swears that Mayor sation pay and empluments of each.—

Priest actually did consult with the aldermon. These are his words:

Since his election Mayor Priest has con-sulted and advised with, and has invited all the aldermen who would, to consult and advise with him, not only in regard to the appointment of these committees but in regard to other matters calculated to promote harmony and good feeling in the council, and to enhance the welfare of this city. Some of the members answered to this request and others would

We have been assured by a majority of "the seven" that the reverse is true -that they were not only not invited by Mayor Priest to consult with him, but that on the contrary some of them went to him and suggested that he call a meeting for consultation, but could get will give only one instance: Alderman Bramble some days ago asked Alderman Overmire if a consultation with the mayor would not be desirable. Over mire endorsed the idea, and thereupon Alderman Bramble and Swearingen called upon Mayor Priest and sought to come to some understanding, whereby smuothly, but all that they could learn from the mayor was his fixed determi nation to run the whole machine himuncoremoniously smashed by "the sevon," the Sun is just an veracious as usual. It says:

Mayor Priost had his committees select ed before the meeting of the council Wed-nesday evaning, and copian were in the hands of members at the time they moved to take the appointing power away from

The "members" who had copies of the list of committees in their hand pertainly did not include "the seven," none of whom knew what the slate was until after the rules had been amended. It is upon this sort of misstatements that the Sun attempts to defend the action of the Mayor.

Regarding the arbitrary adjournment of the council the Sun says.

It seems clear that the adjournment was regular and legitimate. There were but six members in the room at the time; three voted for and three against. The mayor voted for, and declared the council adjourned. Ald, Butman, who had stepped out returned, and voted against after the cott was declared.

We have the word of gentlemen who were present when the vote was taken, and who heard Alderman Butman vote in the negative on the motion to adjourn. This aughts to settle that question, no matter what the Sun man says. If this is not enough we will further state, by Mr. Butman's sutherity and hypositical and trifling Administrarequest, that he was in his seat at the

The reflections of the Nun man on the effects which this meeting of the count would have had, if it had been held prior to the election, are of course parely hypothetical, and therefore eatitled to no consideration whatever. Like most arguments which start of with a big "if," this one lacks the prinsipal requisite of foresfal dogic -that of having a foundation in fact-being based upon a supposition that is not possible. When asked why she did so, she explained that she disliked to travel in a crowd, and as so many were soon going to Rome, she though she would procede them. I shall not imitate her wiedom. Prudent Republicans who think defeat is the last calam ity which can befall may do well to avoid it by taking refuge in the camp of the enemy, but as for myself, I propose to stay at home, and do not much fear a crowd. I fear disgrace more than defeat, and shall not consent to see our historic temples turned into old junk shops, where pinchbeck virtue is sold by muck auctioneers. But must politi-cal strife be perpetual? Shall we never have peace? No! never, while human opinion is free and is not accordant; never, until justice is the supreme law, never, until the lowest and blackest of God's children finds the pursuit of happiness as free from legal obstructions as the highest and whitest find-never until the sweat of man, however humble, as much concerns the state as the sweat of a dollar, no matter how presions the metal of which the dollar is coined. Resignation of Lord Derby.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

A BOGUS PREACHER TRIPPED UP.

LONDON, Murch 28.-A St. Petershurg correspondent says the British Cabinet, in demanding a formal assurance from Russia which none of the other powers support, must have one of two aims-either to inflict formal humiliation upon Russia, or to get rid of the necessity of attending the congress. fall. With unruffled temper I await any concessions. In the latter the congress will not be held, and Russia will endeavor to come to an arrangement with Germany and Austria. Thus England condomns herself to isolation and makes the triple alliance a politioal necessity, and perhaps renders incvitable that radical solution of the Eastern question which she wishes to prevent.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says there is an excited party there who oppose any concession to Austria which might impair the treaty of San Stefano, which is considered sufficiently humiliating for Russia already.

A Vienna correspondent telegraphs So long us the slightest chance remains of a real congress of all the signatory powers-thus securing the possibility of a European settlement-it will be tenaciously clung to here. All efforts will be concentrated on increasing these chances, and on removing the obstacles in the way of the congress. The pro-Russian party is urging the government to accept Bosnia, Herzegovina, and territory on the Agean

Another correspondent says a sudden and unaccountable change in the government's attitude is reported. It is feigning concurrence with the court party, and he is now preparing to oppose Russia openly, with the cutire Hungarian party at his back.

Many members of the lower house were I take. present. Lord Derby entered soon after 5 and took his seat below the gangway, instead of on the treasury bench. He rose almost immediately, and announced his resignation as secretary for foreign affairs, which, he said, had been accepted by the Queen, and he only continued to hold office until the appointment of his successor. He regretted that under the circumstances, it would not be justifiable for him to follow the customary course of explaining in detail the difference which led him to resign. The Cabinet had arrived at certain conclusions of a grave and important character, in which he was not able to concur. To prevent needless alarm, he would say he did not consider those measures as necessarily tending to bring about war. He gave the Cabinet credit for sincerely desiring European peace, but he could not regard the measures which have now been resolved on as prudent to the interests of peace or necessary to the safety of the country. When the concurrence of Parliament is asked for measures of which he had spoken, he would vindicate his opinions. He would state, however, that he did not dissent from the Cabinet's view of the conditions upon which Europe might go into the Congress. He lamented the obstacles to the meeting of the Congress, but the fault did not rest with the government of this country.

Lord Beaconsfield said he would willingly refrain from noticing the reasons which had influenced Lord Derby to resign until a period when those reasons might be legitimately considered by the house. So much mischief might occur from unnecessary mystery that it was his duty to say that in conscauence of the belief of the Government that the Congress would not be held and that hopes of rectifying the disturbed balance of power in the Mediterranean by means of the Congress seeming to have altogether coased, it was the duty of ministers to consider what steps should be taken to prevent impending mischief. They had therefore advised her Majesty to avail herself of the services of her reserve forces. A message to that effect would be laid before Parliament. Lord Beaconsfield deeply deplored that he would not have the support of Lord Derby when he submitted measures on which the Cabinet had resolved to the Parliament. He had felt of late that the political ties between Lord Derby and himself must soon terminate, but he had believed that it would be in a very different and more natural manner-namely, that he (Lord Beaconsfield) would disappear from the scene, while Lord Derby would remain to take a leading part in public affairs. He was sustained at the present moment by confidence that the policy of the government recommended to her Majesty would tend to the maintenance of her empire, freedom of Europe, and the greatness and security of the coun-

There has been a total of 22 alarms of fre during the year, with a total loss of $7,189; total insurance, $10,880; loss on buildings, $6,230; contents, 903. Reviewing thus briefly the operations of this department for the year I have had the honor and the pleasure to set as its head, I am most happy to congrutu late our citizens on the comparatively few demands they have had for our services, and on my own part, and in the name of property owners of Decatur, to sincerely thank you, each and every man, and collectively as a department, for the promptitude you have shown in response to the calls for your invaluable continue and the reservoir spirit of any. sponse to the calls for your invaluable services, and the generous spirit of enulation you have evinced at all times in the discharge of the duties of your voluntary calling, and congratulate all that all our labor has been performed without a single accident to mar our machinery. It has been a matter of pregret to me, as well as others, that our Truck Company, owing to the overweight of their apparatus, has not been able to successfully compete with other companies in the state, but I am happy to know that they are in a fair way to overcome that mighty obstacle by securing a truck which, when stacle, by securing a truck, which, when our streets are heavy, as they have been during the past winter, will be far supe-rior for active service than the old one, and also will be as light in weight as com-patable with the regulations of our State Association, so that in future tournaments the "Hookies" may stand on an equal footing with our hose companies, viz. as good as the best, if not a little better. Gentlemen, expressing the hope that the ensuing year may be as prosperous and pleasant to all as the past, and that our organization may remain intact and as harmonious in feeling and action; also narmonious in reening and action; and that your success in your undertakings may surpass all previous records, and thanking you all for kindness, courtesies and co-operation, also my able assistants for their valuable help to me in all our undertakings, and with every good with that could be expressed in our language. that could be expressed in our language, I close this the seventh year of our de-

Horer, Burner,-Last night, between eleven and twelve o'clock, the Franklin House, owned and occupied by Mrs. Mary Smith, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was sounded, and the fire companies were promptly on hand, but the fire being inside, the flames had made good John Dawson officiating as groomsman, headway before water could be got upon and Miss Ham, sister of the bridegroom, them. The roof is badly burned, and the inside sadly demoralized. It is not certainly known how the fire originated.

The Franklin House has been a landmark on the "levee" for several years, and it will be missed if not rebuilt. The firemen all did good service, and by their active exertions, assisted by others, the furniture was mostly removed. The building was worth between one and two thousand dollars, and is damaged to an extent that will require five hundred dot lars or more to put it in repair.

The building is insured in the office of Rogers & Montgomery for $2,500, and the contents for $500.

The building was originally a church, and was at one time occupied by the Stapp's Chapel congregation, it then standing on the corner of Franklin and Cerro Gordo streets. After it was abandoned as a church, it was bought by Mrs. Smith and removed to its present slip and fitted up for a hotel. The proprietress had a building burned on the same site before ing therefrom about thirty dollars' worth | the present structure was placed there.

He offered as surety his brother, Mr. Henry Frazier, who lives near Mattoon, in Coles county. Upon a full investigation of the character of the bail offered the court said it was sufficient, and ordered the release of Frazier from custody. The case, as explained to our reporter by one of Mr. Frazier attorneys, now stands as follows: Mr. F. was first arrested on a warrant charging him with obtaining money by an examination, and his bail was fixed at $800. He subsequently gave bail on this charge, Mr. McCall and wife being surety on the bond. He was then arrested for attempting to obtain money by means of the same game, from Mr. James Miller, in which case his bell was also fixed at $800 This ball he give this morning, as above stated. A third war rant was served upon him, on which he is held to answer one week from to-day, the bail being fixed at $500. The bail he also gave, his brother going on the bond The last warrant charges Frazier with obtaining money from one Reynods, in the sum of twenty dollars, or the cabouts

Found His Man,-A few days ago Officer Reibsamen arrested a man in fown who gives the name of Young Taylor .--He was selling goods which the officer suspected were not his cwn, and as the officer in question and some knowledge of similar goods having beer stolen at different places, he thought it best to hold the fellow until he could hear from parties which he did by locking him up in the cataboose. It seems that the store of Smith & Lusher, at Li chield, was broken into a few nights ago, and quite a quantity of goods (like what this man was selling) were taken from the building, and Officer McNimey, of that city, getting track of presented to the Mayor and Council at Taylor here, came up to day to look into the matter, and, upon examining the goods in his possession, found that they were the same w those taken from Litch field. The officer will return to Litchfield with his man the afternoon.

On Thursdry evening, March 28th, at the residence of Mr. J. H. Cunningham, by Rev. N. S. Haynes, Dr. Sylvester C. Ham, of Algenta, and Miss. Mattha Crostification, of Hlawatha, Kansas, Dr. u bridesmiid.

Friends of the families and of the young neonle to be united in wedlack gather ed to the anniher of about fifty to witness the ceremony and enjoy the fextivities of the occasion. Dr. Ham is well known to the readers of the REPUBLICAN, especially to the young people—he having been raised in our city and studied his profession with Drs Hoore & Barnes -Miss (hosthwalte, that was, (now Mrs Ham), is also well-known to all of our young people as a former resident of Decatur, and as being one of the most highly estemed young ladies among us.

On the occasion of her marriage the brkle was the recipient of numerous valuable and useful bridal gifts, all of which will "come handy" in the business of house-keeping.

Immediately after the ceremony superb supper was served, after which the Doctor and Mrs. Ham received the congratulations of their friends, and the remainder of the evening was spent in friendly social chat.

The young people will go at once to their home in Argenta, where the doctor has a good and growing practice in the line of his profession. Dr. Ham has settled at Argenta to stay. They take with them the best wishes of their many friends, in which the REPUBLICAN most heartily joins. The Republican office was remembered with a liberal supply of cake.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

DECATUR, ILL., March 27, 1877. Mr. E. IA. Gastman, Clerk of the Board of As one of the examining committee of the first ward, I was present at all the examinations excepting one. The examinations, as far as I can judge from limited observation, were well sustained, reflecting much credit upon the teachers and Travis. On this charge he wared pupils. The schools have been successfully managed, and a highly satisfactory grade of scholarship has been attained -I am surprised to see so few parents visit the schools on examination day to ascertain the progress of their children They certainly are not very much interested in their education. I consider an afternoon or two spent occasionally in visiting the schools is well spent. The examinations of the schools of the first ward were, without exception, highly satisfactory. He offered as surety his brother, Mr. Henry Frazier, who lives near Mattoon, in Coles county. Upon a full investigation of the character of the bail offered the court said it was suffcient, and ordered the release of Frazier from custody. The case, as explained to our reporter by one of Mr. Frazier attorneys, now stands as follows:

Mr. F. was first arrested on a warrant charging him with obtaining money by means of the confidence game from Alkin Travis. On this charge he wared an examination, and his bail was fixed at $800. He subsequently gave bail on this charge, Mr. McCall and wife being surety on the bond. He was'then arrested for attempting to obtain noncy by means of the same game, from Mr. James Miller, in which case his ball was also fixed at $800 This ball he give this morning, as above stated. A third war rant was served upon him, on which he is held to answer one week from to-day, the ball being fixed at $500. This bail he also gave, his brother going on the bond The last warrant charges Frazir with obtaining money from one Reynolds, in the sum of twenty dollars, or the cabouts

FOUND His MAN .-- A few days ago Officer Reibsamen arrested a man in town who gives the name of Young Taylor .--He was selling goods which the officer suspected were not his cwn, and as the officer in question and some knowledge of similar goods having beer stolen at different places, he thought it best to hold the fellow until he could hear from parties with whom he was it correspondence; which he did by locking him up in the culaboose. It seems that the store of Smith & Lusher, at Lichfield, was broken into a few nights ago, and quite a quantity of goods (like what this man was selling) were taken from thebuilding, and Officer McNirney, of that city, getting track of presented to the Mayor and Council at Taylor here, came up to day to look into the matter, and, upon examining the goods in his possession, found that they were the same a those taken from Litchfield. The officer will return to Litchfield with his man the afternoon.

She was laid out as is usual, but soon rumors were afloat that there was something wrong about the case, and so strong were suspicions that such was the case that the Coroner was notified, who, upon repairing to the house where the body was lying, and inquiring into matters, was of the opinion that an inquest should be held and a post mortem examination had. In pursuance of this conviction, Dr. W. J. Cheneweth and Dr. A. R. Small were called to make the examination.-These gentlemen upon examination are of thespiaion that there were indications pointing strongly to the theory that the death of the young woman was caused by an abertion. We understand that the young lady's

the first ward, I was present at all the examinations excepting one. The examinations, as far as I can judge from limited observation, were well sustained, reflecting much credit upon the teachers and pupils. The schools have been successfully managed, and a highly satisfactory grade of scholarship has been attained -I am surprised to see so few parents visit the schools on examination day to ascertain the progress of their children. They certainly are not very much interested in their education. I consider an afternoon or two spent occasionally in visiting the schools is well spent. The examinations of the schools of the first ward were, without exception, highly setisfactory. Yours respectfully,

A DANGEBOUS SPELL.

A Floyd County farmer halted his team on a crossing, read a large sign stretched across the road. He read: "R-u-i-l, rail; r-o-a-d, road, railroad; e-r-o-s, cros; 8-i-n-g, crossing, railroad crossing: 1-o-o double o-l double o k, look; o-u-t, out; f-o-r, for, look out for; t-h-c, the; e-n, en—" and before he could say "g," or even thing of a word beginning with it, the end of the world struck his mag on amidships, he saw his horses wandering off in different directions into the infinity of space; he was vaguely conscious of snaffle rings, and broken tires, and shattered springs, twisted reaches and harness things, and fragments of songs like a whirlwind sings, and when he came crashing down on his back and bulged through the top of a freight car and wrecked a job lot of agricultural implements, he would have given all his wagon was worth to know what the rest of that sign way.-Burlington Hawkeye.
